

Special announcements from the AdvantageGreen Network

Job Opening: Director of Entrepreneurship

AdvantageWest, Western North Carolina's regional economic development partnership, is seeking qualified applicants for the Director of Entrepreneurship Program. This position will work closely with the Vice President of Entrepreneurship & AdvantageGreen and other staff, to promote and expand entrepreneurial opportunities across the 23-county AdvantageWest region. Two of the Director's primary responsibilities will include managing the Certified Entrepreneurial Community (CEC) Program and supporting the development of sustainable industries in WNC through entrepreneurship.

Join the Cooking Oil Recycling Program Holiday Campaign

Thomas Ransom, Blue Ridge Biofuels

For the first time in the region, your used turkey oil can produce biodiesel for powering your neighbor's car or heating your home. The Cooking Oil Recycling (COR) Program provides a healthier method for Asheville and neighboring residents to dispose of used cooking oil this holiday season. With increased usage of cooking oil expected for the holidays, the COR Program is placing specially-made recycling bins throughout Western North Carolina with the goal of keeping used cooking oil out of the sewers and landfill.