

RecycE December 2011

If you've ever had the experience of losing a lot of work on the computer in an instant, you may be able to sympathize with me right now.

In order to facilitate these important event notices going out quickly, and grant myself a much less-stressed and harried holiday weekend, I am making this edition of RecycE much simpler than usual.

You'll find captions for the events with basic info below. Attached are the event flyers in pdf format.

Other material is also included ... again, simply written/laid out.

Blue Ridge Biofuels now has cooking oil recycling bins for residents to use in a number of locations in Asheville and beyond!

They will have a bin and representative at the South Buncombe Hard-to-Recycle Collection on Jan 14 at the Hendersonville Rd KMart.

See: <http://www.cookingoilrecycling.org/>

Rainbow Recycling's recent activities

|

November and December 2011

- On November 15th (America Recycles Day), Rainbow Recycling assisted Asheville GreenWorks as volunteers at Greenlife Grocery's Special Collection for Hard-to-Recycle Items. It was a déjà vu for us, having organized and staffed